PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

Dear Toro Graduates,

On behalf of the faculty, staff, and senior administration of California State University, Dominguez Hills, I again extend congratulations to the Class of 2020.

To reach this momentous occasion, you had to overcome a myriad of obstacles, the likes of which have been truly unprecedented. When the COVID-19 crisis hit, it threw everyone's plans into flux. You persevered as courses were moved to an online virtual environment, adapting admirably to drastic and life-altering changes with the composure and determination that characterizes the Toro Nation. I am beyond proud of the resilience that you have shown through these most stressful and disorienting of times.

Our inability to hold Commencement in 2020 was devastating to all of us at CSUDH, but was especially crushing for you, who worked so hard to reach that finish line. However, I am gratified that with our principle of protecting the health and safety of our campus community, you, your peers, and the faculty and staff were able to maintain your health and wellness uncontaminated by any exposure you might have been subject to if you were on campus grounds. Not being able to publicly share your accomplishments with friends and family, after so many years of dedication and hard work, was a cruel blow. That is why we have worked so diligently to welcome you back for a celebration that, though delayed and adapted to our new circumstances, is every bit as sincere and heartfelt.

Commencement is a time for celebration and reflection. It's a time to appreciate the road you have traveled and the journey that has brought you here. Portions of your journey may have been rocky, but through these trying times, you have kept your eyes on the prize, and have grown intellectually, emotionally, socially, and perhaps, also spiritually. Today, you arrive at CSUDH's Commencement having both earned a college degree and launched your career in your chosen field of endeavor. It is a cause for much joy and exuberance, and the entire university joins in celebrating your hard-earned success.

Any road to Commencement and foothold in your career is influenced by many who have been involved and played critical roles in your achievements. Today, as you graduate from CSUDH, we recognize and applaud your families, friends, significant others, faculty, advisors, and mentors who have supported, motivated, taught, and inspired you to persist and to succeed.

As members of the Class of 2020, you join a vibrant and growing group of over 100,000 CSUDH alumni who are transforming communities throughout California and the nation. Whether you have progressed directly into a career since graduating, or are pursuing further education at the graduate or professional school level, I encourage you to stay connected and engaged with CSUDH, through your support and by returning to share your experience and Toro enthusiasm as mentors and advocates for our students. I also invite you to join the CSUDH Alumni Association. Toro nation is strengthened by your continued involvement and engagement.

Again, congratulations to the Class of 2020. Once a Toro, always a Toro!

Best wishes for your continued success,

CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Class of 2020,

In this most extraordinary moment in time, I offer my deep admiration, gratitude and sincere congratulations to a most extraordinary class of graduates.

As numerous forces upended our world, you held your dreams steadily in sight and persisted in your studies through challenges none of us could have imagined. Unlike any other CSU graduating class past or future, you have by necessity developed and demonstrated skills – far beyond your academic work – that will ensure your continued success: resilience, flexibility, resourcefulness, patience and tenacity. While so much and so many have been lost, your resolve has shone as a symbol of hope and optimism – and you should be proud.

On behalf of the entire California State University community, I am certainly proud to present you to the world as CSU alumni, joining an impressive international network now nearly 4 million strong. Together, you will power the recovery of our state and nation, educate our next generation, fight for social justice, and create new and sustainable opportunities for health, security and prosperity for us all. I encourage you to stay connected to your campus and your peers, to look for opportunities to give back, and to support the future generations who will follow in your footsteps.

And as our many months of physical separation begin to come to a close, I hope you will hold in your hearts all of those who have supported you from afar. The faculty who broadened and deepened your understanding of the world. The counselors, advisors, librarians, tutors, coaches, facilities and support staff who created a nurturing environment of care and growth. Your family and friends, whose belief in you never wavered.

All of these people have been forever impressed by your spirit, determination and accomplishments. Please count me among them – and I know you will continue to make us proud.

Again, congratulations to the class of 2020!

Sincerely,

DOMINIQUE BRAUD

CO-PRODUCER, “THE SIMPSONS”

CLASS OF '97, B.A., INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES

Dominique Braud is co-producer of “The Simpsons,” the longest-running prime-time scripted television show in history.

Braud is a proud mother of two children. She was born and raised in Inglewood, California. As kids, she and her sisters relied on their imagination to turn their bedroom into scenes from favorite movies like The Wiz. In elementary and high school, she tapped into her interest in entertainment through photography and by performing in school plays.

During her senior year at CSUDH, Braud was hired as a production assistant on “The Simpsons.” After graduating, Braud was promoted to production coordinator, where she worked directly with the voice actors portraying “America’s favorite animated family.” She served as post-production supervisor before advancing to the position she holds today.

Even as she lived out her dream of working in the entertainment industry, Braud continued to pursue her other passion—fashion. In 2001, she launched a successful streetwear line called Fahari (Swahili for “have pride in oneself”), with the vision to uplift and show pride in the Black community. Her creations were featured in magazines such as Essence, Honey, and Time Out.

While continuing her role with “The Simpsons,” Braud is also serving as an executive producer for an untitled animated series in development with Adult Swim. She is also beginning production on a documentary highlighting the black boarding school in Compton that she attended during her youth. Through her consulting company, Honeywater Entertainment, Dominique is currently working on developing a number of animated shows. She hopes to continue to support the visions of Black creatives with memorable and impactful stories.

TRADITIONS

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The tradition of wearing academic gowns, mortarboard caps, tassels and hoods, and the carrying of the University Mace originated in Europe during the middle ages and has been an integral feature of American academic tradition since the end of the nineteenth century. The gown is held to be an adaptation of the robe of the friar or priest; the hood, the monk's cowl; and the mortarboard cap recalls the skull cap.

For each of the degree levels, bachelor's, master's and doctoral, the gown sleeves indicate the degree held by the wearer. The bachelor's gown is a yoked, closed-front garment with long, pointed sleeves. The master's can be worn open or closed and has long sleeves, usually closed but slit above the elbow. The doctoral gown has full, bell-shaped sleeves and is trimmed with velvet panels down the front and has velvet bars on each sleeve. The color of the panels and bars is often varied to indicate the academic discipline in which the doctoral degree was earned. The length and shape of the hood also indicate the highest degree earned by the wearer. The color of the velvet border on any hood indicates the wearer's field of study.

Color is an important element of all academic ceremonies. In academics, the colors used to symbolize degrees earned and areas of study are referred to as "faculty colors." They are displayed on doctoral gowns, edgings of hoods, and tassels on caps. The official faculty colors are:

SYMBOLS OF OFFICE

THE MACE

The University Mace is a symbol of the legal and chartered authority of the president of the university. When the mace is present, the authority of the university is present. Carrying the University Mace is an immense honor reserved for a highly distinguished faculty member.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CHAIN

The University Seal forms the centerpiece of the ceremonial chain worn by the president of the university. Ten gold medallions, each inscribed with the name and years of tenure, represent a prior president of the university and form a chain symbolizing the continuity of university traditions. A crest inscribed with the name of the current president of the university sits at the base of the chain, linking the chain of medallions to the University Seal. The Presidential Chain was first presented to CSU Dominguez Hills President Herbert L. Carter at the 1999 Commencement.
