Graduate Studies Policies

Admission Status

Your admission status is stated in the admission letter you received from Admissions and Records.

Provisional Admission

If you were admitted before your undergraduate degree was earned or posted on your transcript, you must forward your transcript (with degree posted) to Admissions and Records before the deadline stated in your admission letter. If you do not do so, your admission will be revoked, you will be removed from the program, and will have to reapply for admission as a graduate student.

Graduate Conditionally Classified

Your department may specify that you must complete specific prerequisites or other requirements. If you do not meet the conditions set for admission, you may be removed from your program.

Graduate Classified

You have been admitted without conditions or have completed all conditions required at the time of admission.

Graduate Courses Taken as an Undergraduate at CSUDH

Senior students may enroll in only two courses (6 units) for graduate credit.

Note: Units counted toward the undergraduate degree may not be applied toward a graduate degree. CSUDH courses taken for graduate credit while earning the bachelor's degree must complete the required form the final semester of your senior year.

Transfer Credit from Other Institutions

A maximum of nine units of approved credit may be transferred from an accredited college or university for a 30-unit program. The work must have been completed as a graduate student, and must be relevant to the degree program as a whole. The formal request for transfer of graduate credit must be completed and approved by your department and submitted to the Office of Admissions and Records.

Adding after Census

The census date of every semester will serve as your deadline for adding classes to your schedule. After this date, there will not be an option to add a course, as the registration portal for that semester will be closed.

Withdrawal Policy

You must formally withdraw from a course either online through your MyCSUDH or by petition. Do not assume that a faculty member has withdrawn you if you do not attend or stopped attending class. Check your class enrollment status online. You will not be withdrawn by the instructor if you do not attend the first day of class. If you do not formally withdraw from a class you will earn a "WU," which is calculated for the GPA as an "F."

Register for Class

At CSUDH, students register by appointment only. An email is sent to all continuing students and all new admits letting you know your enrollment appointment is available. You can view this registration information by logging into your my.csudh.edu account and clicking on the "Student Center" tab.

Special Considerations

Academic Load

Graduate and Post-Baccalaureate students are considered to be full-time students when they are enrolled in at least eight units of graduate program courses each semester. You are considered part-time when taking 4 units. For more information about part-time and full-time fees, contact Student Financial Services at (310) 243-3780.

Note: Students who are veterans or dependents of veterans should contact the Financial Aid office for required unit loads.

Exceeding Full-Time Course Load

You must obtain permission from your advisor to take more than 18 units during a semester.

Graduation Writing Assessment Requirement (GWAR)

California State University Executive Order 665 states that "campuses shall require demonstration of writing proficiency prior to the award of a graduate degree. The level of proficiency shall be no less than the level required for GWAR certification at the baccalaureate level." The requirement must be fulfilled within the first 9 units of coursework. Students who have not met this requirement may not begin their culminating activity (thesis or comprehensive exam).

There are four existing pathways for entering graduate and post-baccalaureate students to immediately satisfy GWAR: GL requirements:

1. Graduate students who earned a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university in the United States satisfy the GWAR: GL.
2. Graduate students who earned a baccalaureate degree from an accredited non-US institution where English is a primary language of instruction satisfy the GWAR: GL.
3. Graduate students who earned a 4 or above on the analytical writing component of the Graduate Record Examinations (GRE) or the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) satisfy the GWAR: GL.

4. Students coming from baccalaureate programs offered in non-English speaking university settings can qualify to enter a graduate program by meeting one of the following options: take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) and achieve a score of : 550 (paper- based); 80 (internet-based); 213 (computer-based);or achieve an International English Language Testing System (IELTS) score of 6.5.

Note: Candidates enrolled to receive Teaching Credentials and not seeking a master's degree are not required to satisfy the GVAR at this time.

Departments and programs may, at their discretion, establish additional writing requirements for their graduate students. Some programs require the satisfaction of GVAR as a condition of admission. For further information, students should consult their program advisor or the Office of Graduate Studies and Research.

Grades

The performance expectations for graduate students are significantly higher than for undergraduate students. Graduate students must maintain a GPA of 3.0 in every semester of attendance and post baccalaureate students must maintain a GPA of 2.5. The graduate GPA is computed on all courses taken in post-baccalaureate standing even if the courses cannot be applied to the degree.

- Class Attendance: Class attendance maybe considered when assigning grades. Check the class syllabus for expectations.

Academic Grades

Student performance in each course is reported at the end of each semester by one of the following grades (with the grade points earned): A-F, I, IC, WU, W, AU, CR, NC, RP, RD.

Other Grades:

- I (Incomplete): The symbol "I" (Incomplete Authorized) indicates that a portion of required course work has not been completed but there is still a possibility of earning credit. An "Incomplete" must be made up within one calendar year following the end of the term during which it was assigned. A final grade is assigned when the work agreed upon has been completed and evaluated. If the "Incomplete" is not converted to a credit-bearing grade within the prescribed time limit, or any extension thereof, it shall be counted as a failing grade in calculating grade point average.

- IC (Incomplete Charged): The "IC" symbol may be used when a student who received an authorized incomplete "I" has not completed the required course work within the allowed time limit. The "IC" replaces the "I" and is counted as a failing grade for grade point average and progress point computation.
- W (Withdrawal): The symbol "W" indicates that the student was permitted to withdraw from the course after the 3rd week of instruction with the approval of the instructor and appropriate campus officials. It is not used in calculating grade point average or progress points. A student who does not officially withdraw shall receive "F," "WU," or "NC" grades for all courses on his/her official schedule.
- WU (Withdrawal Unauthorized): The symbol "WU" shall be used when a student, who was enrolled on the census date, did not withdraw from the course and also failed to complete course requirements. The "WU" is used where letter grades are assigned. For purposes of grade point average computation, is equivalent to an "F." Unlike the "I" grade, the "WU" grade may not be changed by submitting additional work. Rather, the student must re-enroll in the course and, if appropriate, use the repeat and cancel process.
- RP (Report in Progress): The "RP" symbol is used in connection with courses that extend beyond one academic term. It indicates that work is in progress but that assignment of a final grade must await completion of additional work. Work is to be completed within one year except for graduate degree theses. The "RP" symbol shall be used in connection with thesis, project, and similar courses in which assigned work frequently extends beyond a single academic term and may include enrollment in more than one term. The "RP" symbol shall be replaced with the appropriate final grade within one year of its assignment except for master's thesis enrollment, in which case the time limit shall be established by the appropriate campus authority.
- RD (Report Delayed): The "RD" symbol may be used where a delay in the reporting of a grade is due to circumstances beyond the control of the student. The symbol may be assigned by the registrar only and, if assigned, shall be replaced by a substantive grading symbol as soon as possible. An "RD" shall not be used in calculating grade point average or progress points. Although no catalog statement is required, whenever the symbol is employed, an explanatory note shall be included in the transcript legend. The registrar shall notify both the instructor of record and the department chair within two weeks of the assignment of RD grades.

- CR/NC (Credit/No Credit): Graduate courses graded on a "CR/NC" basis are limited to courses specifically designated in the University Catalog for nontraditional grading and to certain 400 and 500 level courses in the School of Education. At the graduate level, "CR" is the equivalent of an "A," "A-," "B+," or "B"; and "NC" is the equivalent of "B-," "C+," "C," "C-," "D+," "D" or "F." At least 24 of the units used to fulfill the requirements for a master's degree shall be graded on a traditional basis. The remaining units may be graded "CR/NC," if the course is offered only on that basis. Graduate level students are allowed to elect to receive Credit/No Credit grades in courses numbered below 500 that will not be used to satisfy the requirements of a graduate degree program. "CR/NC" grades have no grade point value and are not calculated in the grade point average.
- AU (Audit): A student who wishes to audit a course must obtain the approval of the instructor on the Approval for Audit form available in the Office of Admissions and Records. Auditors must pay the same fees as would be charged if the courses were taken for credit. It is not counted in grade point average and no units are allowed.

Repeat of Courses

Graduate and post baccalaureate students may repeat courses; however, the two grades will be averaged into the total grade point average. Credit for the courses will be granted only once and courses may be repeated only once.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (Probation/Disqualification)

Satisfactory Academic Progress

All graduate students must make progress toward their degree each year. Most graduate students are working part- or full-time. Set your priorities when beginning a graduate program. For students with family obligations, the responsibilities and expectations can be even greater. Make a commitment to plan your course of study carefully during your first year so that you can meet all deadlines.

To make satisfactory progress toward your degree, you must earn a 3.0 GPA in all courses taken at CSUDH as a graduate student. You will be placed on academic probation if your overall or semester GPA is below 3.0. You may be disqualified if you do not or cannot raise the cumulative GPA and Study Plan grade point to a 3.0.

Administrative-Academic Probation

A graduate student may be placed on administrative-academic probation for any of the following reasons:

1. Withdrawal from all or a substantial portion of a program of study in two successive terms or in any three terms.
2. Repeated failure to progress toward the stated degree objective or other program objective (when such failure appears to be due to circumstances within the control of the student).
3. Failure to comply, after due notice, with an academic requirement or regulation, which is routine for all students or for a defined group of students (example: failure to take placement tests, failure to complete a required practicum, failure to satisfy GEAR).

Administrative Academic Disqualification

A student who has been placed on administrative-academic probation may be disqualified from further attendance if:

1. The conditions for removal of administrative-academic probation are not met within the period specified.
2. The student becomes subject to academic probation while on administrative-academic probation.
3. The student becomes subject to administrative-academic probation for the same or similar reason for which he/she has been placed on administrative-academic probation previously, although not currently in such status.

Academic Probation and Disqualification

Academic probation and disqualification regulations differentiate between students enrolled in a graduate program and those enrolled in classified post baccalaureate status.

1. Conditionally classified and classified graduate students and graduate credential students are placed on scholastic probation if they fail to maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 in all post baccalaureate units attempted. If they do not bring their grade point average up to 3.0 in the following semester in residence, they are subject to disqualification from the program in which they are enrolled.
2. Students who have been disqualified from a master's degree program may be admitted to another degree program only on the recommendation of the department concerned and with the approval of the appropriate school dean.
3. Classified post baccalaureate students are placed on scholastic probation if their grade point average falls below 2.5. If they do not bring the grade point average up to 2.5 in the following semester in residence, they are disqualified from pursuing work at the University.
4. Students disqualified for academic deficiency may not enroll in any regular session of the campus without permission from the appropriate school dean and may be denied admission to other educational programs operated or sponsored by the campus.
5. Students attempting a second baccalaureate degree are subject to the same probation and disqualification standards as undergraduate seniors.

Five-Year Limit

All requirements for the master's degree, including all course work on the student's approved program of study must be completed within five years (some programs permit seven years). This time limit commences with the semester of the earliest course used on the student's program of study. A student may request an extension of the five-year time limit by requesting a Petition for Validation of Outdated Course Work from your department. The petition must contain a full explanation of the circumstances that prevented completion of the degree requirements within the normal five-year limit and must be approved (signed) by the chair or coordinator of your program, for courses exceeding the seven-year limit, the Dean of Graduate Studies and Research must approve. Approvals for extension must be obtained prior to the expiration of the five-year limit.

Validation of Expired Course Work

Students are expected to complete all required coursework and the thesis, project or examination for the master's degree within five years (or seven years if permitted by your program). Outdated coursework must be repeated or validated. Copies of the Petition for Validation of Outdated Course Work may be obtained from your department and must be approved by the program coordinator. Students must request the petition no earlier than the expected term of graduation. Validated coursework shall not exceed 25% of the units required for the master's degree (e.g., 8 units for a 30-unit program). Outdated transfer course work from other colleges or universities is not eligible for validation. Coursework that exceeds seven years by no more than one academic year may be eligible for validation at the discretion of the Dean of Graduate Studies and Research; beyond that time limit, coursework cannot be validated.

Planned Educational Leave

It is a university requirement that graduate students maintain continuous attendance throughout the course of their study for the master's degree. Any graduate student in good academic standing may request a Planned Graduate Student Leave. Reasons for seeking a leave are likely to be varied, but all applicants should intend to return to formal study within a specified time period. The minimum initial leave will be one full term; the maximum will be one calendar year. Under compelling circumstances, a student may request, in writing and in advance, an extension of the leave. The total number of approved Planned Graduate Student Leaves may not exceed two, and the duration of Planned Graduate Student Leaves may not total more than two calendar years. The Planned Graduate Student Leave is approved at the discretion of the student's graduate coordinator. For more information on planned leaves, visit the Records & Registration website at www.csudh.edu/records-registration and/or consult with your program coordinator.

Continuous Enrollment

A student with a graduate degree objective must maintain continuous attendance, defined as attendance in regular or special session each fall and spring semester of the college year. Students who have completed the maximum number of units required for the degree but are completing their culminating activity may enroll in regular university courses or in a specifically designated 600-level course. Students must have program permission to enroll in the 600 level course. If they chose to enroll in regular university courses, students must continue to maintain a grade point average of 3.0 in all courses taken until the degree is granted.

Graduate students who fail to maintain continuous attendance interrupt their residency and must reapply to the university; they are subject to any new requirements of the university or program. Students who break continuous attendance are not guaranteed readmission to the program, and if readmitted, lose their residency credit (courses they may apply to the degree), and their catalog rights. Loss of residency units means there is no guarantee that more than 9 units of previous course work may apply to the degree requirements upon readmission to the program.

Students who break continuous enrollment may petition to the College Dean for reinstatement of residency units. Serious and compelling reasons for breaking enrollment must be demonstrated. If the petition is denied by the Dean, the student may request a hearing from the Graduate Council.

Steps Toward Readmission Eligibility After Disqualification

The reinstatement of an academically disqualified post-baccalaureate or graduate student is by special action only. Students must submit a Petition for Reinstatement, available in the Office of Graduate Studies and Research, located in the Innovation and Instruction building, suite 3100. Students will only be considered for reinstatement after a minimum of one semester non-attendance following academic disqualification. Approval of reinstatement is partially based on evidence that the causes of previous low achievement have been removed or resolved. At minimum, petitions for reinstatement must include a Statement of Low Achievement which explains, in detail, how the causes of low achievement have been corrected and what plans are in place to insure future academic success. Students may choose to provide supplemental evidence which could include, but not be limited to, transcripts of coursework completed after disqualification, medical testimony and/or other objective evidence. To prove their academic ability, academically disqualified post-baccalaureate and graduate students may complete courses through CSUDH Open University or at other accredited academic institutions. Successful completion of coursework does not guarantee reinstatement to the university or graduate/post-baccalaureate program. Petitions for Reinstatement and supplemental attachments must be submitted to the Office of Graduate Studies.

Graduation

In order to be eligible for graduation, students must be in good academic standing, must have an overall GPA of 3.0 or above, and must have a grade point average of 3.0 in all courses used to fulfill the degree requirements.

Summary of Steps towards the Master's Degree

Advancement to Candidacy and Culminating Experience

Advancement to Candidacy

Advancement to Candidacy recognizes that the student has demonstrated the ability to sustain a level of scholarly competency commensurate with successful completion of degree requirements. Upon advancement to candidacy, the student is cleared for the final stages of the graduate program which, in addition to any remaining course work, will include the thesis, project or comprehensive examination.

To advance to candidacy, you must have met the following requirements:

- A minimum of 15 resident units
- Classified standing
- An approved program of study
- Successful completion of the GWAR
- A cumulative GPA of 3.0 in all courses taken as a graduate student
- No grade lower than a "C" in the degree program

Note: Advancement to Candidacy must be certified by the department on the "Graduation Advisement and Advancement to Candidacy" form or program specific forms that include this information to the Office of Graduate Studies and Research prior to the final semester, prior to the semester of the comprehensive exams, and prior to enrolling in thesis or project.

Culminating Experience

Each graduate program includes a culminating experience that marks the end of the graduate program: Thesis, Project, or Comprehensive Examination. The culminating experience usually begins after you have completed all or the majority of your coursework.

Thesis

A thesis is defined as the written product of a systematic study of a significant problem. It identifies the problem, states the major assumptions, and explains the significance of the undertaking, sets forth the sources for and methods of gathering information, analyzes the data, and offers a conclusion and/or recommendation. The finished product demonstrates originality, critical and independent thinking, appropriate organization and format, and thorough documentation.

Project

A project is a significant undertaking appropriate to the fine and applied arts or to professional fields. It also shows originality and independent thinking, appropriate form and organization, and a rationale. It is described and summarized in a written abstract that includes the Project's significance, objectives, methodology, and a conclusion and/or recommendation.

Comprehensive Exam

Some departments and programs offer Comprehensive Exams for the student's culminating experience. Departments set their own policies and procedures for such exams. Each academic department or program that offers a Comprehensive Exam must provide students with a written policy statement, in advance of the exam.

Continuous Enrollment

If you have finished all the coursework for your master's program and are writing your thesis, please remember that you must maintain continuous enrollment. You may register for your department's 600 level course to maintain continuous enrollment. If you have any questions, please contact your department's Graduate Coordinator or call the Office of Graduate Studies and Research at (310) 243-3756.

Thesis and Project Formatting

The Thesis and Project Guide provides detailed instructions on all the steps in the preparation and submission of a master's thesis or project, from the initial selection of a faculty committee to the final approval process. It describes the various sections of a thesis or project and gives step-by-step formatting instructions for the final manuscript. It is highly suggested that all students thoroughly read and review the Thesis and Project Guide before embarking on a thesis or project. The Thesis and Project Guide can be found on the Graduate Studies webpage.

ScholarWorks

Once the suggested revisions have been completed, the student can choose whether to publish the abstract or their thesis/project in its entirety to ScholarWorks, a digital archive designed to capture, preserve, and make available research, creative works, and the administrative output of California State University, Dominguez Hills.

Steps to submit your thesis:

1. You must register your intent to submit your thesis or project with the Office of Graduate Studies and Research by completing and returning the Intent to Submit Thesis/Project Form. This form can be found on the Graduate Studies webpage under Thesis/Project. It can be hand-delivered to the Office of Graduate Studies and Research (Innovation and Instruction building, suite 3100) or emailed to thesis@csudh.edu.
2. Obtain committee member approval. Committee members need to send their approvals from their CSUDH email addresses to thesis@csudh.edu in the format of an approval statement. The approval statement can be found on the Graduate Studies webpage under Thesis/Project or in the Thesis & Project Guide.
3. Once the Office of Graduate Studies and Research has received your Intent to Submit and committee member approvals, you will be notified that a personal review folio has been created for you in Blackboard. You will then need to upload your thesis on or before the thesis/project submission deadline to begin the review process.
4. The thesis reviewer will read and annotate your thesis/project for necessary formatting revisions. You can revise as many times as necessary before the university publication deadline. Once all required changes to grammar and format have been made, the thesis reviewer will send you a final approval email with the required forms for publication.

Human and Animal Protection

Human Participants

The CSUDH Institutional Review Board (IRB) is a committee comprised of faculty, staff, and community members who review research studies that involve the use of human subjects. The purpose of the IRB is to protect the rights of human research subjects by ensuring compliance with university and governmental regulations as specified by the Office for Human Research Protections (OHRP).

Animal Research

Regulated through the CSUDH Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC), animal research may include activities involving live vertebrate animals, or the use of tissues or other samples.

If your research involves human participants or animals, you are required to submit an IRB and/or IACUC research applications so that the committee can determine the appropriate level of review.

The IRB or IACUC Application

This application is separate and distinct from the Culminating Experience Proposal. The IRB or IACUC application informs the Institutional Review Board (IRB) or the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC) how the researcher intends to work with the human volunteers or animal subjects.

The research protocol states:

- The purpose of the research
- A brief review of the academic literature
- Methodology or theory behind the project
- Procedures in which the participants or subjects will engage
- Risks and benefits of the research to the participants or subjects
- Process of acquiring or recruiting participants or subjects
- Process of maintaining confidentiality of the research participants
- Process of obtaining informed consent from human volunteers

The Process

IRB or IACUC office staff will determine if your Human Research protocol needs review by the IRB committee or if it can be reviewed administratively by the IRB chair. The office staff will also process the Animal subject protocols and refer them to the IACUC for review.

The review cycle for both human and animal research protocols may take up to 4 weeks, depending on the number of protocols in process at the time, and on how long it takes you to reply to the office's request for revisions.

Academic Research

Research Compliance website provides links to important forms, guidelines, online training and information on the protocol review process for both human participants and animal subjects.

Note: You must complete the CITI training before you are eligible to submit a human subject's protocol to the IRB.

Contact Information

For more information contact Judith Aguirre, Research Compliance Officer at (310) 243-2136 or irb@csudh.edu.

PLEASE NOTE:

Under no circumstances may you begin any research activities involving human volunteers or animal subjects without receiving an official approval letter from the IRB or IACUC. The approval letter will arrive by email. Submit a research protocol well ahead of any deadlines for beginning the research. Reviewers may require you to changes in the protocol before the research can be approved. Be sure to respond promptly to any requests for revisions.

If you bring your research before receiving notice of approval, the Human and Animal Protections Office will withdraw your protocol and it will not be approved.

Preparing for your Future

Applying for Jobs

For most graduates finding a job is the next step. This is difficult task, but resourcefulness, dream job right away, so be open to other opportunities such as internships and volunteer work. These opportunities may open the doors to stable employment and will expand your network in the field of your choice. The key to attaining a job in your field is knowing your value and casting a wide net, which your master's degree will prepare you to do!

Applying for Doctoral Programs

When applying to doctoral programs, research the program focus and faculty interests. Find programs that align with your values, research goals, and faculty research areas. Research the program requirements and deadlines; submit your application on time.

Resumes and Cover Letters

A resumé is a marketing tool. Its purpose is to motivate an employer to interview you. It should give a potential employer a brief overview of your education, work experience, extracurricular involvement, and skills and abilities that address the stated and implied requirements for the position you are applying for. With each resumé you send, you must also send a cover letter. A cover letter will introduce you as a candidate, clarify the position for which you are applying, and enable you to highlight strengths. For help with your resume and cover letter, drop by the Career Center office (LIB-3rd Floor) for a 15 minute consultation about your resume and cover letter, post your resume on CSUDH Handshake for a critique from a career coach, attend a resume writing workshop, see a career coach, or check out examples on the Career Center webpage.

Tips for Surviving Grad School

Letters of Recommendation

Requesting Letters of Recommendation

Many internships, employers and schools require letters of recommendation. To ensure that you receive a glowing letter, use the tips below to help your recommender write a strong support letter.

Be sure to provide your recommender with the following:

1. A courtesy meeting. We strongly suggest that you meet with any academic or professional references to tell them more about you and your academic program. This will allow them to personalize the recommendation for you and explain why you are a great candidate. Be sure to provide them with your most current name, phone number, or e-mail address for follow-up.
2. Information about you. Although the recommender has agreed to write a recommendation, you should still provide him/her with some information about you. In what capacity do you know the recommender (class, internship, lab, etc.)? When did you meet the instructor? What grade did you receive in their course? What was your program GPA? Did you write a paper or complete a project for the faculty member? If so, state what you did. Did you have a difficult semester? How did you overcome that semester and improve? What are some of your biggest accomplishments? This information will help your recommender when writing the letter.
3. Materials requested. Remember you asked them to write about you – provide them with the information they need to do so! Some recommenders may request that you submit additional materials so that they can successfully write a complete letter on your behalf. Some things they may request are a short personal statement, resume or CV, writing sample, and unofficial transcripts. Be sure to provide your recommender with a folder with all the information and due date so that they can keep the material you give them in one place.
4. The submission process. Does your letter or recommendation need to be submitted online, mailed, or part of a larger packet? These are details that the recommender should know, if it is an online process, provide your recommender with the necessary steps to complete the online process because it requires more time to respond. If your letter needs to be mailed, provide your recommender with a typed, addressed, and stamped envelope.

Letter of Recommendation Tips

1. Provide faculty with sufficient time to write a letter of recommendation. Give your recommender three to four weeks to write your letter of recommendation. This is a process that should not be rushed. To facilitate a response, give a deadline one week ahead of your planned application submission date.
2. Only ask for a letter from someone with whom you have a positive relationship. Do not ask faculty whose course you have not taken or in whose class you received a poor grade. Do not ask a program chair or dean to write a letter if you did not work with the person directly. Remember to provide the recommender or faculty with a friendly reminder. Although you have provided them with a deadline date, a friendly reminder will help them complete and submit on time.
